HALFTIME SHOW GREAT

Owl Band Director Billy Harrell can take great pride in the patriotic halftime show at the Hondo-Pearsall game. The Owl Band, supported by the junior high band members as flag bearers, performed in a superb style and Wayne Stein's recitations put the finishing touches on an outstanding performance.

Then came the fireworks! And if anyone in that crowd failed to get a lump in their throat, then there was not an ounce of patriotism in that heart.

A great show, Billy. Thank you.

FOR MY EMPLOYEES SAKE

Somewhere in the books of management I think I remember reading that a boss is supposed to keep his employees happy. Well, for that purpose alone I am running the picture below. We purchased a riding lawn mower from Hondo Implement Co. last week, and to give it a good test, I cut the grass around the Anvil Herald. So while I was doing this task someone like Tony Mendoza snapped this picture. And later I found it on my desk with an inscription. So to make them happy and let them think they have "put one over on the boss" I give you their versions of: JUNIOR SAMPLES AT WORK. (And, Mama, don't get upset. Your son hasn't changed that much; he still dislikes hard work.)

CLOCK CHANGING TIME!

By way of admitting to Ralph Jones that he was right and I was wrong, I will attempt to tell A. F. McGuffin that he should not change his clocks on the 24th of

Rev. Henry Schulte

Rev. Schulte to conduct services

The Rev. Henry Schulte of San Antonio will conduct a special Preaching Mission at St. Paul Lutheran Church, 1303 Avenue M, in Hondo from October 24 through 26. Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The general theme for the Preaching Mission is "Getting right with God, and keeping it that way." Plans are to have informal hymn singing each evening and a sermonette especially for the children.

Pastor Schulte, 35, is the Senior Pastor of Highland Park Lutheran Church in San Antonio. He is a native Texan, born at McGregor. He grew up on a farm near McGregor and worked in a grocery store for four years after graduating from high school in 1951.

He felt the Lord's call to prepare for the Christian Ministry in 1958 and began his studies at Texas Lutheran College in Seguin. After graduation from Texas Lutheran he continued his studies in Columbus, Ohio where he received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree in 1963.

His first call was to the dual parish of Shelby and Fayetteville. Following four years of ministry at these churches, he accepted the call to become Associate Pastor at Highland Park Lutheran in 1968. In December, 1970, he was called to become Senior Pastor of Highland Park.

Trustee departs jailhouse

A prisoner in the Medina County jail put himself in a mess of trouble last Friday--and all for only $5.49.

Donald Ryun, who had been placed in jail about three months ago on charges of forging a $5.49 credit card, made his get-away sometime last Friday night.

Ryun, a trustee, had been serving as cook for the jailhouse and doing the other odd jobs a trustee is allowed to do. This is a common practice at all jails.

Friday night the Devine Highway Patrolman brought a DWI case and his car to the jail. The night dispatcher had Ryun move the car around behind the jail prior to going to his cell, supposedly at 10 p.m.

Then when the morning dispatcher went to get him to cook breakfast Ryun was gone, and so was the car. Sheriff Hitzfelder said at this time it is uncertain if Ryun kept a car key when returning them to the dispatcher, or if he cross-wired the ignition.

He pried the latch off the back door to make good his escape.

Now in addition to begin charges with forging and passing, Ryun can be charged with fleeing to avoid prosecution, theft, and escape.

Ryun, 30, is a native of Nebraska. He had been picked up in Iowa by Chief Deputy Floyd Williams, with the credit card company footing the bill for the trip.

City writes letters seeking some 'help'

The City of Hondo wrote some letters last week, several of them in fact, with one central thought in mind--Help!

This was the advice of J. C. Cooley and Gene Hammond, representatives of the Alamo Area Council of Governments, when they appeared before the City Council Wednesday, October 13, to discuss ways the City can help control flooding and alleviate the housing problem.

Cooley said in his discourse: "Look into the HUD programs, especially the Urban Renewal portion which would best suit Hondo. The potential of this city is great--possibly for an industrial airport; you have the site. Hondo has so many things going for it.

"So you need to concentrate on those programs which can be focused to help you. We can work with you on assistance; we can help some on planning. And now is the time for City and County to get together where programs are ready to do.

"I know there was a request made several years ago for Federal help on flood control. This request was for over $1,000,000, but at that time there was not enough to go around."

On flooding, Hammond said it would be difficult, almost impossible, to design structures to eliminate a "once in 100 years" type flood.

"But have you explored the Soil Conservation Service programs on watersheds. The Nueces River Authority has availability of funds for channelization."

The two men said the problem of the highway culvert and railroad bridge east of town is one that will have to be taken up with those two departments. They did say, however, that the Highway Department usually can be worked with easily.

So the two suggested that the two best answers on flooding is to: contact SCS and the River Authority. "AACOG can work hand in hand with City in contacting these two bodies and making a presentation to them."

Covering the subject of FIA flood insurance, a new program, Hammond pointed out that to be eligible for such a program a city "must

Council rejects bids

Exercising their right of rejection, the Hondo City Council Wednesday night, October 13, turned down all bids to lease the city-owned lands at the Airbase by a 3-2 vote.

The vote to reject came after much discussion by the bidders and Council members. Voting for rejection were Ralph Hauger, Pete Pedroza and G. P. Chapman. Hilmer Mueller voted against rejection and Andy Patterson abstained.

Please, no flooding 're-run'

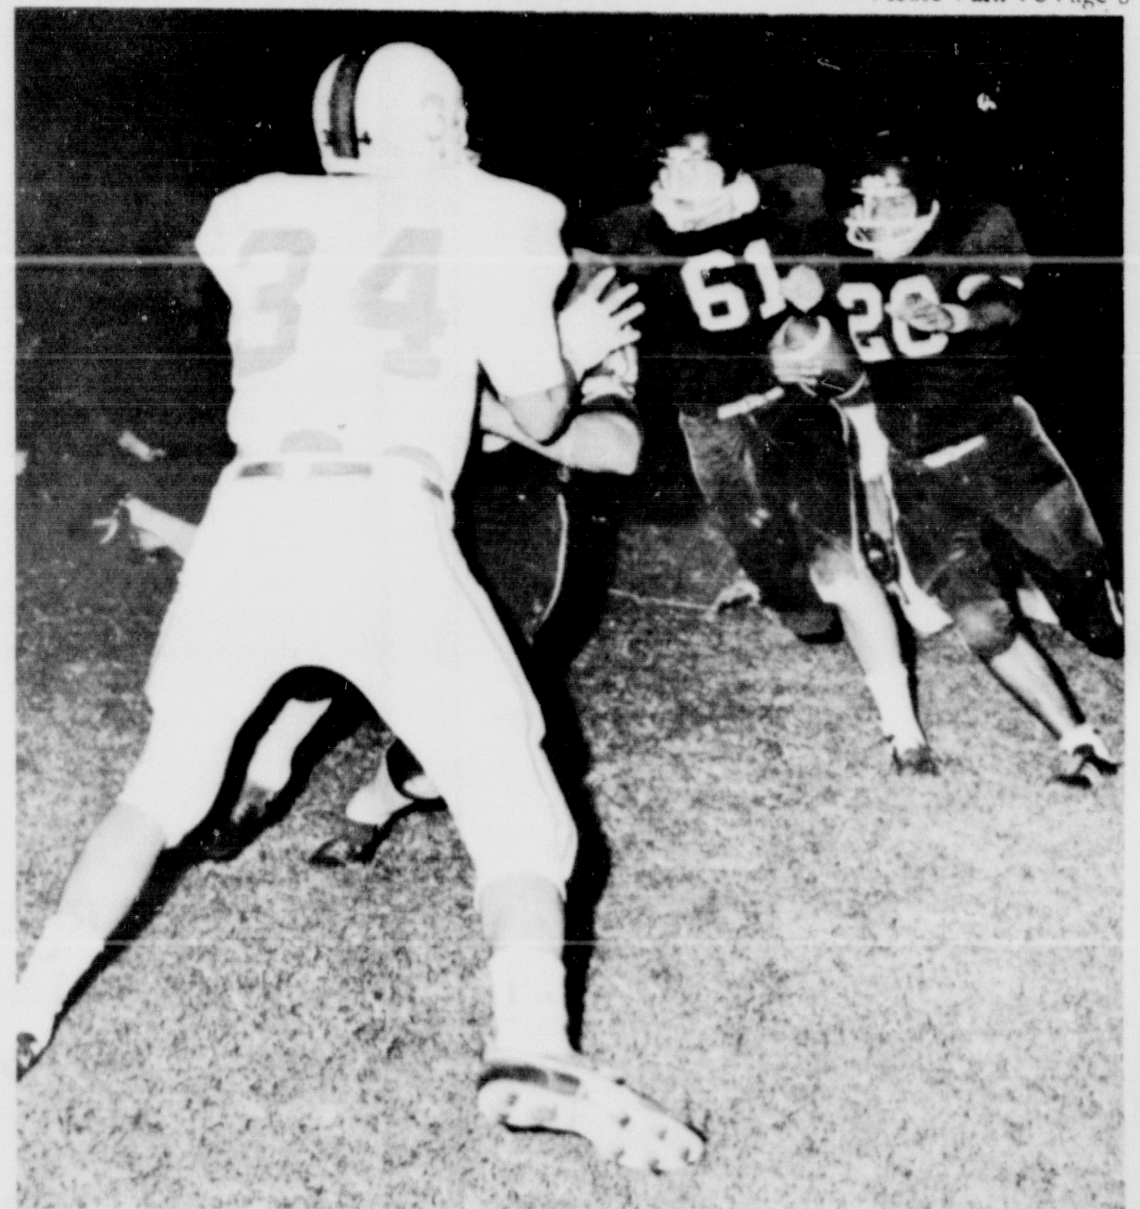

Hondo area residents began to wonder Tuesday night if they were going to get a "re-run" of the recent flooding.

Rain fell in torrents Tuesday night and accompanying winds apparently gave the rain added impetus to sound like it was greater than it was.

For C. B. "Doc" Taylor recorded only 2 inches and the Weather Station at Hondo Airbase reported 3.01 inches. North of town it is reported that heavier rains fell, with George Koch reporting 3 inches and another area reporting as much as 6 inches. Doc Taylor recorded .80 for Sunday, .12 for Monday, .00 for Tuesday making a three-day total of 2.93.

Water came down enough to close the Highway 689 by-pass on Verde Creek and the Hondo was also running pretty good.

Edward Hilsher reported that on his school bus route near the Colby Joe Heyen place some sheds had been pretty well damaged by an apparent twister. Phone lines were down in that area early Wednesday morning, according to Jess Ledbetter of Southwestern Bell, so no full report could be obtained by press time.

Open that hole!

Sharp, clean blocking is the name of the football game, if a team wants to gain yardage. Here Photographer James Overstreet captures an excellent example of that fact. An unidentified Owl blocks Maverick Victor Vinton (34) out of the play as Kebo Ligon heads for the hole with Mike Saathoff (61) comes up to help out. Kurt Leinweber (50) can be seen in the background.

Don't forget Halloween Carnival

(Editor's Note: They just keep coming, those letters to the Chamber of Commerce requesting the Hondo sign postcard. "Although, they seem to be slowing down to about one a day now," Harry Filleman said. These tend to show the amount of mileage received by the City from the recent article in The Texas Star.)

Gentlemen: I am a picture postcard collector, so let your conscience be your guide about the number you send me, as I also use many in my correspondence. I shall be happy to pay any additional postage. Thank you in advance. H. P. P.

We'll still have another week of Day-light Saving Time, Mac. The big clock change doesn't come around until October 31, although I just knew I was right when arguing with Ralph at a Retail Merchants Committee meeting Monday.

But I was correct on one thing. You still fall backward one hour.

THE FUNNIEST

Harry Filleman repeated this Aggie story told him last week:

"The highway sign east of San Antonio on the way to Seguin reads: 'Interstate 10, A&M 0.'"

PREDATOR CONTROL

A release that crossed my desk from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association says the group is going to meet in San Angelo on November 6 "to develop a financing plan to insure an effective predator control program."

The proposed program takes on local color when one looks into the financial status of the Medina County Wolf Club, which has as its purpose to help defray the expenses of a trapper whose duties are to help eliminate predators.

Medina County Commissioners Court pays $75 per month toward a trapper, and the Wolf Club was to pick up a like amount. Wolf Club money is supposed to come from free-will donations by county ranchers and other livestock owners. Then the Parks and Wildlife Department helps with the rest.

The only fly in the ointment is the Wolf Club. It's broke.

Harry Filleman at the Chamber of Commerce handles the collection for the Club and he says despite appeals ranchers are just not making their contributions.

So at the present time, Medina County does not have a trapper. But it may be that the Association can come up with a plan that will even help our county since livestock owners don't seem to be inclined to help themselves.

John Cargile, TS&GRA first vice-president, says: "All sheep and goat producers are being affected by predators, either directly or indirectly. It is high time we face up to our problems and do something about them."

Advertising saves money for merchant & customer

By S. S. Talbert
Department of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Advertising should be used in business in exactly the same way a tractor is used in farming.

Advertising saves money for a merchant and his customers for the same reason that a type-setting machine saves money for this newspaper and our subscribers.

Like production machinery, advertising reduces man hours and increases volume. It is a mechanized form of selling. It was recognized as such 200 years ago by Benjamin Franklin, one of the first and greatest of advertising men.

Franklin observed that industry in the American colonies could be greatly stimulated through advertising. He proceeded to prove his point. His skill in advertising was largely responsible for Franklin becoming a wealthy man before he was 40 years of age. He used his newspaper to advertise his printing and many other products. He sold everything from soap to bond servants.

The unit price of Franklin's famous Poor Richard's Almanac was cheap as compared to other almanacs. Yet, only Franklin derived great profits from his almanac, because only Franklin sold in quantity through skillful advertising.

Total net profit, rather than unit margin of profit, was Franklin's measure of success in business. He saw advertising as the basic tool for efficient distribution. It was not an expenditure but a profit making investment.

A true forebear of today's businessman, Franklin could see the economic wisdom of selling in quantity at low prices through advertising.

have land use planning where you limit your land use in the areas. However, these programs can prove very beneficial to areas affected."

But the two were strong in their urging to "get a minimum Urban Renewal program started. If you will get this one started, it will give you access to more Federal funds," they said. "Yes, there will be some re-location but if worked right, this would be kept to a very minimum."

Once the two had discussed the subjects, Councilman Gip Chapman asked, "Where do we get started?" "Write me a letter that you need help and what you want to do," Hammond said. "And at the same time write letters to all agencies that you plan to use in these projects."

More about . . .

Council bids

plained the Council action. "We felt the bids on a whole were lower than what the City of Hondo should receive on this land. Therefore, we exercised the right to reject any or all bids and turned down all bids, with the hopes that, after advertising for bids again with an option that will benefit the bidders, we can bring the bids nearer the figure they should be so that the citizens of Hondo will realize as much as possible from their property."

The option mentioned by the Mayor is one that will give the successful bidder an option to renew the bid at the same amount at the end of five years.

"If a bidder decided to farm the land," Brucks pointed out, "it would take at least three years to get the land in shape to raise crops. Under a five-year lease without the option he would stand to lose money should he lose the lease. But with the option, he could come out ahead of the game."

The Mayor continued: "The City Council certainly wants anyone who leases the land to make a profit. If they don't then we would have a difficult time ever leasing the land. But at the same time the land is worth a specific amount to the people of Hondo and we want the City to receive that amount."

The new bid including the option will be called at a special meeting of the Council at 6 p.m. today (Thursday). It will be published for three weeks starting next week and bids will be opened and publicly read at a meeting of the City Council on about Nov. 15. Exact date and time of meeting will be announced later.

Cooley said, "We don't have the money, but we can work with you in coordinating your efforts with all agencies concerned, because we know what is going on in all the various programs."

Four points that were agreed upon included: request SCS make a survey of the Hondo area to determine the possibility of watershed retention dams and any other programs that might help alleviate flood dangers; ask the Highway Department to make a survey which might include the culvert at the east end of town; contact railroad and ask their help; and contact the Nueces River Authority.

Mayor George Brucks explained that the City had contacted the Corps of Engineers and a representative would visit Hondo. (This is covered in another story in this week's paper since the man was due in Hondo Monday and Tuesday.)

Cooley explained to the Council and interested citizens present that SCS has a variety of programs that might come under the title of recreation areas. "There could possibly be a recreational lake area northwest of town in the Hondo City Park area. And this could well tie in with diverting or controlling flood waters," he said.

One point the two men made very clear: "You must know what you want to do before you start mustering forces. Plan now and begin working on the projects. Take your City 701 plan and utilize it to plan these projects. That is what any governmental agency will use as a guideline on their projects."

Pharmacists from over a 13-county area gathered in Hondo Sunday afternoon for a meeting of the Southwest Texas pharmaceutical Association. The group was hosted by the local pharmacists. They heard Chuck Dierdorf, President of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, speak on various problems faced by the profession in the new vendor drug program. Dierdorf of El Paso also discussed the role of the small town pharmacist to

The consumer with a mini-sized furnishings budget and a working knowledge of sound shopping techniques can still furnish her home with elegance. But to do so, she must be a skillful shopper who knows what she wants and understands what she is getting when a purchase is made.

Skillful shoppers have several sources available to satisfy furnishings needs at minimum cost. Some second-hand stores carry furniture of good quality which may be more economical than low-quality new furniture. Auctions, sales from model homes or apartments and want ads in local papers may offer good buys. It pays to inspect the items carefully and to learn as much as possible about previous use. There are usually no guarantees or refunds on second-hand furnishings.

Unfinished furniture and furnishings offer opportunity for savings if the consumer is reasonably skillful at refinishing. Seconds or slightly damaged furniture can be economical too. Fine furniture, slightly marred in shipping or handling, is often sold at greatly reduced prices. Be sure you know the full extent of the damage and the cost of repairs before you buy. Furnishings sales sometimes offer excellent money saving opportunities. February and August are usually the big months for clearance in home furnishings. However, individual stores may hold special sales at any time. Watch local newspapers for information on sales and special events. Keep in mind that all "sale" items are not a bargain. It takes know-how to make sale purchases count!

Personal skills in decorating can cut costs if you are reasonably skilled. Many homemakers tailor their own draperies, upholster furniture, paint and refinish furniture, and restyle old items for today's needs.

The October educational program for Iota Upsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha was most informative with speakers Newell Woods, principal of Meyer Elementary School, Mrs. Jerry Williams, teacher and instructor at the Sheltered Workshop for the Handicapped Children and Mrs. Roy Wilson, teacher at McDowell School who presented a paper written by Mrs. Bob Zerr, teacher at the Medina County School for Handicapped Children. They told the group about the programs that are available in our public schools for the handicapped youth.

nator for District IV, was also present.

March of Dimes were distributed to the members.

YOUNGSTOWN, N.Y. Oct. 14 -- The 1972 calendars advertising Obligations d'Epargne du Canada (Canada Savings Bonds) make me aware that jan., fev., mars., avril, mai., juin, juil., and aout., will be headin' thisaway within a few short weeks. Sept., Oct., Nov., and Dec., 1972 will follow just as they do in our USA, same spelling, with capital letters. Just Time, marching on as usual.

The weather has been almost Texas-style so far, no frost or freeze, a bit of rain, lots of sun, enough breeze to keep the autumn leaves whirling, although they seem to be reserving their all-out display for later. We have color film set to go.

Neighbors are energetically washing windows outside in preparation for the installation of storm windows, a must for the snows which are sure to come later but usually not until December, I'm told. My daily walks are a delight and I discover something new each time.

Small boys gather bagsful of chestnuts which litter the sidewalks everywhere. When I asked one if he intended to roast them he said, "Heck, no, ma'am. We're just gathering up am'nition to have us a war and conk the other guys on the head!" That's War & Peace in these here parts!

The Millet Cross at Old Fort Niagara reminds me of the new cross atop Mont Gentil in Castroville. The cross at the fort here commemorates the bitter winter of 1688, when all but 12 of a French garrison starved to death. Replacing Fr. Millet's original wooden cross, the Knights of Columbus erected the present memorial in 1926, when Pres. Coolidge pronounced it a national monument. I can see it from my bedroom window.

FRANK and SIS GRAFF have an amazing collecting of family records which add to their pride in being part of a pioneer family who helped to build Medina County.

I have made many notes and hope to write the story later on. It will help remind the present generation of the debt of gratitude owed to dedicated "old timers" whose forethought must have had later todays and tomorrows very much in mind. Bless their memories!

Mrs. J. D. (Ola) DAWSON of Hondo is one of those rare individuals, nowadays, who says that she is glad she owns something on which to pay taxes and manages "to have the wherewithal to pay them with!" Tax collectors, please note; this might compensate for the names some folks call you, as if you were to blame!

Ola is the widow of a former Medina County deputy sheriff and she has lived in our community since 1924. Says she loves it too. Another thing, she has no relatives in Medina County so the rule "not to talk about anybody because everybody is related" doesn't apply, but she admits to saying only "nice things because the folks here are all so nice."

Thank you, Ola, even for all us displaced and transplanted critters!

In Hondo, TX, our LUCY WILSON is a very attractive and popular schoolmarm; but in Youngstown, N.Y., LUCY WILSON is a real estate broker. I pass her office daily on the way to the library and the postoffice and perhaps I shall meet her some day.

McDowell report cards contained the sad news of a "T" in math for some of my young Hondo friends. Study and more study is the only known cure. By way of consolation, I offer that in area schools (circa 1754) schoolmasters taught math from "carefully executed sum books in manuscript, from which scholars copied the sums & rules into blank books of their own." (I've been reading "Colonial Days in Old New York.")

Compare this, dear children, and be glad that your assignments are in present day math:

"Rule of Barta, which is for exchanging of ware, One Commodity for another. This Rule shows the Merchants how they may Proportion their Goods so that Neither of them may sustain Loss. Two Merchants A&B barta.

A hath 2 Doz. of Candles @ 4/6 per Doz for which B giveth him 30 Pounds Cash & ye rest in Cotton @ 8d per lb. I demand: How much Cotton must B give A more than the 30 Pounds in Cash?

Ask Mr. HAY to try that on your next report cards! See how easy his "demands" are?

Parents Stamp Out Drug Abuse With Facts

By Jerry Williamson

City of Hondo

Today's Subject: Should Marijuana be Legalized?

A growing controversy over the country today is whether it might be best to let down the barriers and legalize marijuana. A lot of people, including many who are not marijuana users, feel that too much fuss is being made about it and that legal penalties for possession and use are too harsh. I have a case history of one 16 year old girl I wish to relate to all the people in this community, but first let's review what marijuana is, where it comes from, etc.

Marijuana is a plant which belongs to the hemp family. It can grow to heights of 12-14 feet and the active principle is called tetrahydrocannabinol. It is obtained from the amber colored resin of the flowering tops and leaves of the female plant. It can grow in most any climate and in most soil conditions, but seems to grow best in semi-tropical areas. At one time marijuana was actually used legitimately to relieve pain and promote rest and sleep. However, due to the unpredictability of reactions, this use was discontinued. Medical authorities still search for beneficial uses for the drug, but none have been found that outweigh the obvious dangers. Marijuana is defined by law as a narcotic, but it is a hallucinogen possessing the ability to stimulate and depress. It is used most frequently in the form of a hand-rolled cigarette and looks very homemade since the weed is coarse. Marijuana has a distinct odor like that of burning rope or alfalfa.

The young girl whose case I wanted to mention took a "drag" on her first marijuana cigarette a little over a year ago. She told how it all started about midnight with five friends who had decided to have a "party." As the evening progressed, and the youngsters became "high" on marijuana, they stole an automobile and went for a joy ride. The young girl told later how at first she was repulsed by the marijuana smoke, but as it started to take effect everything began to look different to her. Even the traffic lights looked beautiful to her, especially the red ones which they were going through at speeds up to 85 miles an hour. She later told how she thought they were just cruising along about 25 mph.

Logic tells us that this situation had to spell trouble and, sure enough, later in the evening the kids ran a red light and another car came across the intersection and hit them broadside, killing three in the car outright! A fourth passenger died five hours later and the fifth recovered several months later. Our 16 year old girl, who had tried marijuana for the very first time, has been in a wheelchair ever since and the doctors tell her she will spend the rest of her life there. Let me quote what she says about marijuana today: "Pot isn't worth it. Don't blow your mind and your life on loco weed, (a street term for marijuana). I'll never try it or anything else again, if I did, the next step for me would be death."

What a heartbreaking story! Think how this girl's parents must feel. If they had only started young to instill in this girl's mind the deadly facts about drug abuse, perhaps this never would have had to happen.

So, when your youngster says, "Don't worry about it, everyone is doing it now and marijuana isn't really as harmful as alcohol," remind your child that two wrongs do not equal a right. Robbing filling stations is not as dangerous as murder either, but that doesn't make robbing filling stations an acceptable practice!

See that your children have the facts! That's the least you can do. Teach them self-discipline and how to achieve truly good goals in life. How can anyone benefit from living in a dream world brought on by drugs?

Concerned citizens meet to discuss combining agency help

Hondo Anvil Herald, Thurs. Oct. 21, 1971, Pg 7

The October 27 meeting of citizens interested in combining agency participation in helping those in need will go over much of the information discussed at the first meeting.

Tentative plans also call for organization of a Community Service Council to serve as a focal point for these efforts.

The meeting is slated for St. John's Church at 8:45 p. m.

Various departments were represented at the initial meeting and many subjects were discussed. From the minutes the following report is made on the first meeting.

Father Emmet Carolan, who presided, asked that each person representing the various organizations to give a statement of what type of work they do.

Mary Ruth Cameron, of the local Welfare Department, explained that the State Dept. of Public Welfare offered the following services:

(1) Old Age Assistance to persons 65 years and over; (2) Aid to families with dependent children; (3) Aid to needy blind; and (4) Aid to totally and permanently disabled, 18 years and over.

These are the only people we can help. We cannot give aid to a healthy man who is simply without work. He must be mentally and physically incapacitated.

Who determines if a man is physically incapacitated?

We send them to a doctor and pay for the examination. We then send the examination to Austin and they determine if he is incapacitated, and they notify me if he is to be put on welfare.

How long does it take to determine that a man is incapacitated?

That all depends on the doctor. Sometimes a month, and sometimes I get the report in two weeks. It might be delayed at the Medical Services in Austin. In the meantime, we need to refer these people to someone - St. Vincent de Paul Society or the Salvation Army.

Are there many moochers on Welfare?

Not many, but there are always some. In fact, I can't think of one.

There is opposition by many people to Welfare. I don't think it is justified. I think one case can hurt the whole thing. There is no man capable of working who is receiving a Welfare check.

How about a woman who is actually separated from her legal husband and living with another man?

Yes, for example, a woman with 7 children marries, she can still get assistance for all 7 children because they are not his children. No matter how big his salary. This is a good example of how one bad case can give a good program a not-good reputation.

There are more than 500 families in Medina County on Welfare.

What percent of people are on Welfare that you think would not have to be?

We don't have anybody on Welfare who is not eligible. If we had jobs for women and

If we had nurseries to take care of children, many of these women would not need Welfare.

John Biggers - I do Social Service - my job is what they used to call Child Welfare and it is more or less called Counseling Service. I counsel families with neglected children or abused children.

If somebody came across a family whose children were not in school, could we refer them to you, and what do you do?

Yes, the first thing I do is get all the information I can and then talk to the parents and explain that they have the responsibility to see that their children are educated properly. In a severe case, or we can't get the parents to rehabilitate, we can go to court and declare the children dependent and neglected and in that case, put them in foster care. We do whatever we can to improve housing - some cases we can get vocational training for older children.

Are you available in the evenings to be called on. I don't have a phone at this time, but I can give you my address - 2106 Avenue V, Hondo.

You mentioned housing earlier. What do you mean by housing?

Primarily, people just don't know what is available to them such as the 235 loans for housing.

Are you fully aware of the 235 Program?

I am no expert, but we can bring someone in for that. What I do is set up an appointment for a person. The County Supervisor is here every other Tuesday in the courthouse.

Is he available in the evenings?

No.

The Vocational Rehabilitation Program is for people who are out of work because of physical disability. They can be trained for other types of work, such as shoe makers, upholstery and many other trades.

They have tried to train some here in the flower shops, but it hasn't been too successful. However, if they can go in to San Antonio, they pay them while they are in training. They have to get there on their own power, but they can stay there with what they give them.

Could some one from St. Vincent de Paul Society tell us what your work consists of?

Doro Hernandez stated that their work is to help the poor, and needy. We help people who can't pay rent. Pay for medicine for sick. If house leaks, we try to help them repair it. If not married by the priest, we try to help them. We also try to get Catholic families to send their children to the Catholic School. We visit the jail and take them cigarettes, try to give them spiritual aid or advice. We also visit hospitals. We bring food and clothing to needy families; also have hospital beds available for those who need them at home. Our help is not limited to members of the Catholic Church.

Do you have families that you help regularly?

Yes, we have quite a few that we visit every week. Whenever we have a case we talk it out in conference and decide whether people need help or not.

Do you ever help people that would be eligible for Welfare?

Possibly we have in the past.

St. Vincent de Paul Society needs ladies to help with the sorting and distribution of clothing. The only time the men can help is after working hours or on Sunday.

Alvino Perez stated that in San Antonio, the St. Vincent de Paul Society has mixed conferences - men and women.

Sgt. Bill Green - let me inject this - I am the field representative for the Woodman of the World, a fraternal society, and as such, I have control of the wheel chair which is now available for somebody to use when needed.

The Salvation Army - Mr. Braun makes frequent visits here. He had a limit placed on how much we could do for people. I gave the people what I thought they needed. However, I will not give them aid for past due bills nor will I pay past due rent.

Rev. A. M. Hanneman - We have a Salvation Army Campaign for funds in the Spring. My responsibility would be to the local group if they need groceries or clothing before they can go on or apply for additional help.

While waiting to receive Welfare, they can be sent to the Salvation Army for temporary help.

The Garden Club handles clothing, in good condition, at the Thrift Shop at a minimal cost. They are open on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Say a family needed clothing to get children in school - they could go to the Salvation Army and get $5.00 and go to the Thrift Shop and find clothing for several children.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society could then save their money for more necessary use.

Sgt. Green - Food Commodities - is strictly a supplement and Joe Nixon is very fast in putting a family on and awfully fast to put one off. Families with an inadequate income may go to Mr. Nixon at the BOQ barracks at Hondo Air Base and apply for this supplemental food. Many working people have inadequate incomes. Many people seem to think that some of this commodity food, e. g. powder milk is not the best. It is all excellent food - very useable and very nutritious.

We need an educational program on commodities. They have given classes but are not getting through.

The Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Barbara Fowler, has volunteered to help them prepare food, and has someone who speaks Spanish to translate. She is willing to train volunteers how to help these people prepare the food.

How do we know when to refer them to Food Commodities?

Just refer them. Any Welfare family is eligible. Others, not on Welfare, may also be eligible - depends on their income.

Some of them qualify for two or three months - it depends on the job opportunities.

I want to add that the Lions Club has a Camp in Kerrville for crippled children. I don't think anyone from here attended this year. In addition to that crippled children camp, the Salvation Army has a camp in Midlothian - South of Dallas - only sent one or two the Salvation Army Camp. They have crafts for the children and they love it.

What does it cost?

Not anything.

Possibly we could make it a point to have children attend next year.

They will take different age groups at different times - the only requirement is that the child has to have some disability - they have blind children, polio victims, but they have to be able to take care of themselves.

I must have talked to 500 people about a summer camp for kids. Everybody agrees when I talk to them and when I mention it two or three days later they have forgotten about having discussed it. It can be done and should be done.

It won't be an easy task - we will have to sit down, plan and look at property, possibly it may be donated and then it may not - you are talking about possibly $10, - 000.00.

Are you talking about a camp in the Hondo area?

Yes, possibly take $1.00 a day to feed the kids, but then they would be getting more than they do at home. Folding cots, mess kits or paper plates to eat out of.

In the San Antonio area they take them to a camp near San Marcos.

I think we can check with the Sisters at Castroville to use the quarters at Moye.

Fr. Carolan - One of the things the people need badly, especially the poor people, is medicine. The money that they were getting for medicine through Welfare is being kept back and they have been issued cards and other sheets or paper work to get their medicine from participating drug stores.

They are allowed either two prescriptions or $12.00 worth of medication per month. If they get two prescriptions at $1.50 a piece that's all that they are allowed that month, except in emergency.

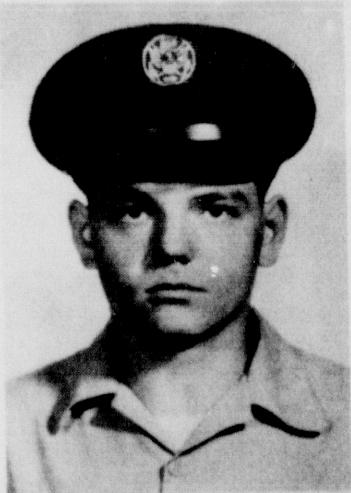

Does the doctor have to prescribe it?

Yes, they have to have a prescription each month. They told us about this program on August 20, 1971, and since September 1st, they have already made five changes.

Father Carolan thanked all for coming to the meeting, and then summarized what was discussed, and stated that a need for a central index of people who are being helped by various groups will be discussed further at a meeting of all interested groups and individuals.

We will meet again after the report appears in the paper, on a Wednesday, October 27, at 8:45 p. m. Rev. Hanneman led the closing prayer.

Four undefeated teams head into home stretch

We've reached the half-way mark in another college football season ... six weeks down, six weeks to go ... and it seems to us football nuts that it just started yesterday! However, whether it's one week or 12, there are four undefeated ball clubs that are very much in control of the college football scene: Nebraska and Oklahoma from the Big Eight, Alabama from the Southeast Conference, and Big Ten power, Michigan. The four are rated 1, 2, 3 and 4 respectively, and it appears that until the Nebraska-Oklahoma confrontation on Thanksgiving Day, they'll remain the Big Four. We're not forgetting that Michigan has a little date with Ohio State while Alabam' has a couple of quiet chats ahead, one with L.S.U. and one with Auburn.

However, looking to the immediate future - this Saturday, for example - all four are strong favorites. The potent Cornhuskers meet Oklahoma State, and though the Cowboys have been fired up occasionally, they will lose to Nebraska by 28 points. The co-power in the Big 8, Oklahoma, is matched against Kansas State. The Wildcats showed power earlier in the season, but have faded ... the Sooners will win by 39.

Alabama runs up against the strongest competition of any of the four as it plays Houston in Tuscaloosa. The Tide is favored by 21 points. And in the Big Ten, in the 62nd renewal of the battle for the Little Brown Jug, the Wolverines will jug the Gophers of Minnesota by 26 points.

There are three strong challengers to Alabama's race to the Southeast Conference title. Georgia is 8, and the Bulldogs are expected to romp over Kentucky by 29. Ninth-ranked Auburn goes outside the league to meet Clemson ... Auburn will win by 22. L.S.U., 10, is idle.

Penn State moved into the number 6 position in the Harmon ratings this week and their meeting with T.C.U. shouldn't hurt their national reputation. The Nittanies are favored to clip the Horned Frogs by 26 points.

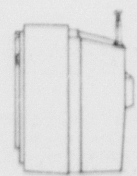

However, another independent among the elite group just might have problems. Fifth-ranked Notre Dame plays Southern Cal in South Bend. The Irish have been fading just a bit each week, and a little too much fade against the Trojans could cost them their unbeaten season. Notre Dame may escape ... they're underdogs by 12 points.
